

Curtiss-Wright Signs Definitive Purchase Agreement for Dy 4 Systems Inc.

Agreement Creates Global Market Leader in Mission Critical Embedded Computing For Aerospace and Defense Market

ROSELAND, N.J., Dec. 3 /PRNewswire/ -- Curtiss-Wright Corporation (NYSE: CW; CW.B) today announced that it has signed a definitive purchase agreement with Solectron Corporation (NYSE: SLR) to acquire its Dy 4 Systems, Inc. ("Dy 4") business for approximately US$110 million. Dy 4 will operate as a business unit of Curtiss-Wright Controls Inc., a subsidiary of Curtiss-Wright Corporation, based in Gastonia, N.C.

With annual sales of approximately $72 million and more than 300 customers in 26 countries, Dy 4 is the leading supplier of commercial-off-the-shelf (COTS) embedded computing solutions for the defense and aerospace markets. Dy 4 has primary operations in Ottawa, Canada; Leesburg, Va.; and the United Kingdom. Key customers include BAE Systems, DRS Technologies, General Dynamics, Northrop Grumman, Lockheed Martin and Raytheon.

Dy 4 specializes in using leading edge technologies to create high-integrity products that work reliably in harsh environments. This acquisition, combined with Curtiss-Wright's Vista Controls division and the recent acquisition of Systran Corporation, positions Curtiss-Wright as the world's premier provider of mission critical embedded computing solutions for the aerospace and defense markets.

"The combined breadth of innovative product offerings, highly talented engineering and management teams, and longstanding commitment to the markets served provides compelling capabilities for our customers," said Martin Benante, Chairman and CEO of Curtiss-Wright. "Dy 4 is a strong, profitable and technologically advanced company, and we are delighted for them to join the Curtiss-Wright family."

About the Centennial Celebration of Flight

On December 17, 1903, amid the sand dunes of Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, man's quest for powered flight became a reality when a small fabric and wood craft known as the Wright Flyer ushered in the aviation age. The team behind this legendary event, Orville and Wilbur Wright, along with aircraft designer Glenn Curtiss, gave birth to a new industry and founded Curtiss-Wright Corporation, today a multinational provider of metal treatment, motion control and flow control systems for the aerospace and defense industries.
